Name and Designation of Resource Person(s) : Dr. Alagu Muthukrishnan, Associate Professor, CSE, CMR Institute of Technology, Hyderabad.
Outcome : The webinar on "Numerical Methods for Exploratory Data Analysis" was highly informative, focusing on the application of numerical techniques to analyze large datasets. The resource person introduced various methods such as regression analysis, principal component analysis, and clustering algorithms, emphasizing their practical uses in identifying patterns and trends with real-world examples, demonstrating the effectiveness of these methods in different fields. Participants gained insights into selecting appropriate numerical methods for their specific data analysis needs. The session concluded with a Q&A segment.
