We are made for goodness. We are made for love...We are made for all of the beautiful things that you and I know...

Some characteristics of great Teacher

A great teacher is warm, accessible, enthusiastic and caring.

This person is approachable, not only to students, but to everyone on campus.

This is the teacher to whom students know they can go with any problems or concerns or even to share a funny story.

Great teachers possess good listening skills and take time out of their way-too-busy schedules for anyone who needs them.

If this teacher is having a bad day, no one ever knows—the teacher leaves personal baggage outside the school doors

INSPIRATIONAL QUOTES

"Be yourself; everyone else is already taken." ...

"You've gotta dance like there's nobody watching, ...

"Be the change that you wish to see in the world." ...

"Live as if you were to die tomorrow. ...

"Darkness cannot drive out darkness: only light can do that. ...

"Without music, life would be a mistake."

"Happiness is not by chance, but by choice."

"Life changes very quickly, in a very positive way, if you let it."

"Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see a shadow."

ALPHABETS OF HAPPINESS

Accept yourself as you are
Believe in god and in yourself
Control your temper and your tongue
Do everything in it's best
Every day you begin with a prayer
Forget the part and go ahead
Glorify god in everything
Honesty should be the best policy
Imagine only positive things to remember
Jogging is good for health
Kindness brings kindness
Love others as you love yourself
Mother is the best guide
Never neglect the words of your dad
Overcome problems as they come
Practice always charity
Quit bad habits and
Run away from bad friends
Speak truth with a smile

Talk less and think more
Understand others with compassion
Virtues try to practice
Wake up early in the morning and then
X-ray and examine your conscience
Year to be better day by day
Zealously long for happiness

INDIA AS A POTENTIAL SUPERPOWER

India is considered one of the potential superpowers of the world. This potential is attributed to several indicators, the primary ones being its demographic trends and a rapidly expanding economy and military. In 2015, India became the world's fastest growing economy with a 5% estimated GDP rate. Before it can be considered a superpower, the country must overcome many economic, social, and political problems and it also needs to be as influential on the international stage when compared to the United States, China and the former Soviet Union.

The Himalayas in the north and north-east protect the subcontinent from bitter continental cold, save the monsoon winds from escaping, and replenish the river watersheds and flat arable lands that have spawned the Indian civilisation.

The central position of India, its magnificent resources, its teeming multitude of men, its great trading harbours, its reserve of military strength, supplying an army always in a high state of efficiency and capable of being hurled at a moment's notice upon any point either of Asia or Africa—all these are assets of precious value. On the West, India must exercise a predominant influence over the destinies of Persia and Afghanistan; on the north, it can veto any rival in Tibet; on the north-east . . . it can exert great pressure upon China, and it is one of the guardians of the autonomous existence of Siam (Kingdom of Thailand). The possession of India gave the British Empire its global reac

Energy

In the future, the world is expected to exit the "fossil fuel age") and perhaps the "nuclear energy age", and enter the "renewable-energy age" or even further into the "fusion power age", if and whenever these technologies become economically sustainable. Being a region in the sunny tropical belt, the Indian subcontinent could greatly benefit from a renewable energy trend, as it has the ideal combination of both - high solar insolation and a big consumer base density. For example, considering the costs of energy consumed for temperature control (a major factor influencing a region's energy intensity) and the fact that - cooling load requirements, unlike heating, are roughly in phase with the sun's intensity, cooling from the excessive solar radiation could make great energetic (and hence economic) sense in the subcontinent, whenever the required technology becomes competitively cheaper. India also has 25% of the world's thorium resources.

அம்மா

முதலாவதாக, அம்மா என்பது
அனைவரையும்
உணர்ச்சிகளால் நிரப்பும் ஒரு சொல்.
ஒவ்வொருவரின் வாழ்க்கையிலும்
ஒரு தாய் நிச்சயமாக மிக முக்கியமான
மனிதர்
. தாயின்
குழந்தையின்
மீதான அன்பை நிச்சயமாக எதையும்
ஒப்பிட முடியாது.
அவள்
மன்னிக்கும் நிலை
ஒப்பிட
முடியாதது
